

Hello friend!

I love science. It is very powerful! It can even make things float like you saw in my experiment! But science is not nearly as powerful as the Holy Spirit. My friend Maddy helped me know more about the power of the Holy Spirit by telling me a Bible story.

The story is about one of Jesus' disciples named Peter. In the story, there was a king named Herod who was trying to stop anyone from telling others about Jesus. But Peter loved God and told people about his love of Jesus wherever he went. Because of this, Peter was arrested and put in prison even though he didn't do anything bad.

One night, while Peter was sleeping, an angel came and helped him get out of prison. God had sent an angel to save Peter from King Herod.

Because of the power of the Holy Spirit, Peter was able to still share his love for Jesus with others, just as God asked him to do. What are some things you can do for God?
